Plant to Harvest

In missions work, it is sometimes common to find people who only want to receive. How can they give when they have such a great need of their own? The Apostle Paul assured the Philippian church that as they gave to missions that God would supply all of their needs (Phil. 4:15-19). The fact is that if we as a church want to see a harvest, we must be willing to plant a seed.

With great excitement, I share with you that the South African youth have developed a heart to give to missions. For many years now, the youth have heard about how the American youth give so that missionaries can have vehicles through a ministry called Speed-the-Light. They've asked themselves, "Could a young person really make such a difference?" The South African youth have realized it's time to not only receive from missionaries but to also give to missions. During the past few months, the National Youth Committee and I have developed our very own missions giving program for our South African youth.

Plant To Harvest (PTH) is the youth initiated ministry that provides a seed to gain a Harvest of souls for the Kingdom of God. PTH desires to not only impact South Africa but also beyond its borders. Therefore each year will focus on a different missions project. One year the project will focus on a "Home Missions Project" and the next year a "Foreign Missions Project."

Please pray with us for the youth of South Africa to catch the vision and give generously and abundantly in the midst of their own needs. May the seeds planted grow into a bountiful harvest for God.

Scheduling services for 2013

As my first mission term comes to an end this year, the ministry work load continues to increase as I try to complete several tasks before I must leave. In the midst of this work, I must also begin to think of scheduling missions services from January to December 2013. Senior pastors, youth pastors, & mission committees: please assist me by contacting me with possible dates that I could visit your church in 2013. My email is sarah.careins@agmd.org.

I want to say a big THANK YOU to all of you who faithfully pray for me and give financially! Your partnership has developed a national youth program & impacted thousands of youth!
